Description
Several users have requested to allow the hiding of the personal page of the user. That is, the same as in groups we can configure at any moment the possibility to be "closed" (and thus no one can see its contents unless they are invited), we should be able to do the same in your personal space (for users that dont want any public profile, public bio or public doc of any type). In the future, when we can decide the visibility of each wave, we can fine-grain this (allowing for example the Bio to be public and the rest private) but nowadays we should at least allow the closure of the personal page.
