Description
In the new form (http://movecommons.org/test-form2/) the user can add languages, writing freely the name of the language. I think this should be change to choosing from the predefined languages (from a scroll list, or whatever) as we want to represent them in the ontology with a semantic class of the standard predefined languages (es, en, fr, pt_BR...). That is, if the user inserts an unknown language, we wouldn't be able to represent it.
